

INTRODUCTION

The text of the study should be written in Times New Roman font, 12 pt, single line spacing, justified. In addition, paragraph spacing should be 0 pt (before and after). One line space should be left between each paragraph. One line space should be left after the main headings and between paragraphs. In a research article, introduction, method, findings, discussion, conclusion and recommendations sections should be respectively included. Tables, graphs, figures and pictures to be included in the main text should be shown and numbered in appropriate places inside the text. Graphics, figures and pictures should be named, numbered and labelled with the necessary explanations. In-text table representations, the table number and title must be added above. In the entire text, there should not be any space after the subheadings.

METHOD

The following subheadings should be included in the Method section. Subheadings

Research Model

It should be written in Times New Roman font, 12 pt, single spaced, justified.

Universe-Sample (Research Group)

It should be written in Times New Roman font, 12 pt, single spaced, justified.

Data Collection Tools

It should be written in Times New Roman font, 12 pt, single spaced, justified.

Analysis of the Data

It should be written in Times New Roman font, 12 pt, single spaced, justified.

FINDINGS

Tables can be displayed in Times New Roman 9-11 pt. Analysis of each table should be written in 12 pt and single line spacing. Table representations should be the same as the following table and the analysis of each table must be added above or below the table with a reference to the table (Table 1). Only the first letter of the table title should be capitalised, and the others should be written in lower case.
